

Suggested listening – Introduction to early electronic music

---

Manhattan Research Inc. – Raymond Scott (Basta Records)

Popular Electronics – Early Dutch electronic music from the Phillips Labs (Basta Records)

The BBC Radiophonic Workshop - a Retrospective (Mute Records)

BBC Radiophonic Music (Mute Records)

The Radiophonic Workshop (Mute Records)

The John Baker Tapes Volume 1+2: - John Baker (Trunk Records)

An Electric Storm – White Noise (Island Records)

The Tomorrow People – D.Derbyshire, Dudley Simpson, Brian Hodgson (Trunk Records)

Forbidden Planet soundtrack – Louis and Bebe Barron

Samuel Hoffman's soundtracks for Sci-fi films. He was responsible for connecting the sound of the Theremin to science fiction.

Silver Apples of the Moon – Morton Subotnik

Early work by Suzanne Ciani – Composed many pieces for advertising

Kontakt – Karlheinz Stockhausen

That's a pretty good selection to get started with. Check out The Tone Generation for further inspiration.

The Tone Generation

Find here - www.simonsound.co.uk/sound

-----

Suggested viewing

What the Future Sounded Like – The history of EMS studio.

Alchemists of Sound – BBC4 doc on the Radiophonic Workshop.
(find this on youtube)